

Travel to distant lands, help people to improve their lives, promote peace.

“this trip...has made me whole and made me feel confident that anything, really, is truly possible.”

Colleen MacPherson—India 2005

Photo credit: Megumi Iijima

ESTONIA

A project with mentally handicapped children

BRAZIL

Photo Credit: Robert Biggs

Teaching dental hygiene

VENEZUELA

Photo Credit: R. Parker

Baking banana bread

GUATEMALA

Photo Credit: Cedescrli Organization

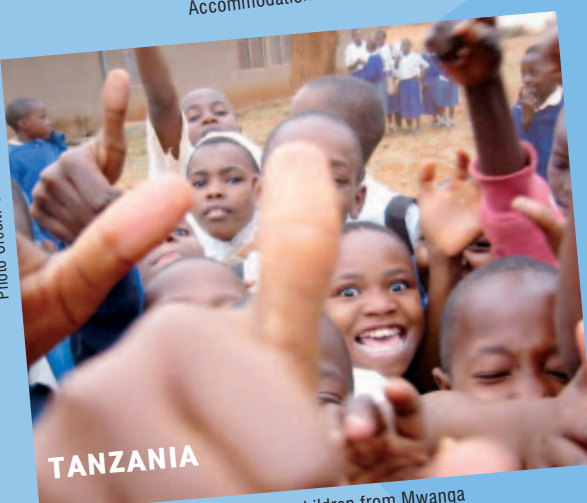

Assisting in agricultural work

PERU

Photo Credit: Liz Munson

Accommodations might be quite simple

TANZANIA

Photo Credit: Gabriel Rincon-Mora

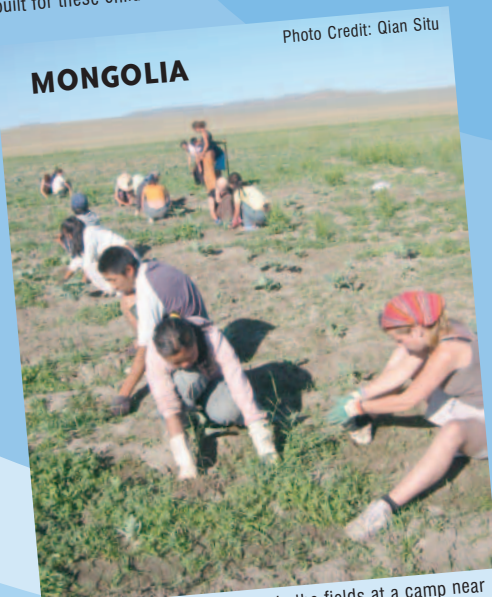

Classrooms were built for these children from Mwanga

PALESTINE

Photo Credit: Chris Brink

On the bus to work for peace

MONGOLIA

Photo Credit: Qian Situ

Volunteers working with kids in the fields at a camp near Buhug River

2005 PHOTOS

INDIA

Photo Credit: Deborah Ingrassia

Tsunami cleanup in India

MEXICO

Photo Credit: Conni Bock

Construction project at sea turtle rescue camp

CANADA

Photo Credit: Carolyn Shapiro

Volunteers and children painting a hop-scotch grid in British Columbia

USA

Photo Credit: Maiké Will

Volunteers at historical renovation workcamp in Jefferson, Oregon

JORDAN

Photo Credit: Cindy Vlasic

Painting a Mural

ITALY

Photo Credit: Stephanie Matt

A construction project

THAILAND

Photo Credit: Carolyn Verst

You might be treated like one of the family

“Now that I have been to Kenya and seen how generous and amazing the people are, I can never turn my back on them and it will forever be in my heart.”

Amanda Donnel—Kenya 2005